

Jan Harbuck, Ph.D.

Dr. Jan Harbuck is the Vice-president of AEGA Ministries International located in Monroe, Louisiana. She serves as the International President of the Women For Christ Department of AEGA which has chapters in the US and around the world. Jan is a minister of music and is an ordained minister with AEGA. She has directed choirs and taught music (piano, organ, accordion & voice) in the past years. However, now she is the full-time office manager of the AEGA Headquarters in Monroe. She works mainly with ministries and churches to help them get their ministries legally set in order by processing their state and federal paperwork and helping them develop proper by-laws that govern their ministry. Jan holds a Master Degree in Music and Business Administration and a Doctorate in Church Law & Administration.

When able to travel with her husband, Dr. Henry Harbuck/president & general overseer of AEGA, she speaks, conducts Church Law workshops, and ministers in song across the US and other countries. She has no doubt God called her as a small child to serve him and counts it an honor to be a bond-servant of our wonderful Savior, Jesus Christ.
